

PAVING PATTERNS

There are a number of different paving patterns you can choose from, and this can assist you in choosing pavers as some are more suited for rectangular pavers and others square. Some important things to consider are:

- Some patterns will require cuts
- 'Running Bond' is considered the most DIY friendly as it requires minimal cutting and leaves little wastage
- On flexible (compacted road base and sand) pavers must always be laid with a 3mm gap to avoid the edges chipping.
